Let's Talk About Your Project

Our customer feedback is a reflection of the quality we deliver

"The AppEvolve team was a pleasure to work with. Excellent communication skills, friendly, went above and beyond expectations, delivered quality code with uncanny attention to detail, and much more! Will absolutely hire again for my next project."

Amir Feinsilber
CEO, Realty Pass

"AppEvolve helped us build exactly what needed and made sure all functionality was well thought out. They also put on more resources when we needed to meet a deadline. They communicate very well and have a quick response."

Alex Chen
Partner, XVCR

"I've built payment apps, real estate apps, and educational apps. I have never worked with a group that has been so concise, focused, and talented as Jason and Patrick. They understood the objectives and developed a full strategy with milestones, deliverables, and very clear user flows."

Steven Matt
CEO, Tell Me Your Goal

"AppEvolve developed an effective communications protocol to hit our milestones on the path to launch. They created regularly-scheduled core meetings and added supplemental meetings as we ramped up development. In addition, quick response emails allowed us to discuss and resolve any issues as they arose in real time."

Web App MVP

The last thing you want to do is put valuable resources into building an application only to discover that your users won't use it. Introducing a scaled-down version first is the best way to collect feedback before going all in.

We identify the most essential features for a minimum viable product (MVP) that will help you optimize the final solution.

Average Cost: $70K

Average Time to Complete: 60 working days

Contact Us

Early and ongoing feedback is everything

The idea of a "fully-loaded" application may sound attractive, but it's rarely ideal. Projects opening with long wish lists of features typically inflate two things that businesses hope to minimize: development time and cost. Then, if they haven't vetted their concepts, they may find that the very bells and whistles that caused this inflation aren't even used.

When it comes to technology, customized beats out comprehensive. Introducing an MVP gets your product to your audience faster for critical feedback. After all, the goal is to give your users what they want, not what you think they want.

The smart approach to web app development

Our objectives are the same. Like you, we want to create a great final product as quickly as possible. Our Scrum development framework puts a working prototype in your hands within a week so we can gain your input as we go. The result is a stronger, more expedient solution.

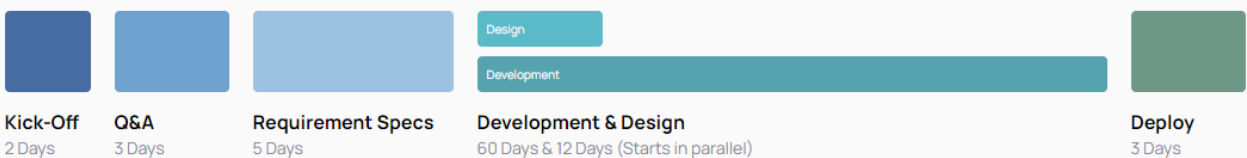

See Customer Success Story

Sample web app MVP support:

- Guide decision-making around must-have features
- Streamline app components for early-stage testing
- Integrate your insights throughout the development process
- Deliver a baseline product with a fully-functional user experience
- Evaluate user critique to determine what changes, if any, should be made Reduce timelines and expenses while maximizing the chances for market success

Our promise to you

The service we provide is just as important to us as the solution we build. No matter what your need or how long we've worked together, you can expect the same premium experience.

- Quality:
 Our team consists of only highly-experienced senior developers. We've designed our own intensive vetting process to find the world's best engineers, period.
- Professionalism:
 Our technical experts are also friendly communicators. That's because you work directly with those building your product, not with account middlemen.
- Transparency:
 You deserve a partner who's up front from the start. From pricing to timelines to ongoing project tracking, we keep you in the loop every step of the way.
- Flexibility:
 Just like your software should adapt to your needs, your developer should adapt to you. When we promise customization, we're not just talking about your product.

Don't simply take our word for it. We invite you to schedule a free, no-obligation discovery call to see for yourself how this all applies to your project.

Web App Rework

There's no way around it: business software is complex. There may come a time when a fresh start is necessary. Your choice of developer could mean the difference between a one-time operation and recurring IT heartburn.

We'll work with you on a new, lasting solution that doesn't disrupt your business or deflate your budget.

Average Cost: $30K

Average Time to Complete: 40 working days

Choose your developer wisely

There could be any number of reasons business software requires a revamp. Companies may need new or different features that existing applications can't provide. Or, maybe they originally went with the lowest bidder and ended up with poorly-written code constantly riddled with bugs.

We get it. The idea of an overhaul can be stressful, particularly if you've already spent heavily. But, when software is properly designed, you come out on top by avoiding regular fixes and costly, complicated updates as time goes on.

Short-term rework, long-term comfort

Deciding between reworking your applications and "getting by" isn't always easy. That's why we walk you through the entire process from beginning to end. We make sure you understand what you're actually getting and give you the confidence to take ownership of your code.

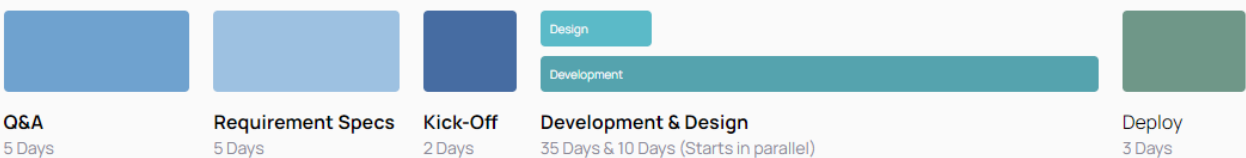

See Customer Success Story

Sample web app rework support:

- Audit existing code for defects and vulnerabilities
- Determine where to spend and where to save for cost efficiency
- Improve code quality and speed
- Replace bulky code or logic with cleaner, more elegant options
- Add features that better support your business goals
- Support planning architecture to "future-proof" your application

SOLUTIONS

Web Portals

Technology drives today's business world, plain and simple. If you're not offering digital options for basic processes, you're doing yourself and your constituents a disservice that could cost you down the road.

Our web portals take these processes off your plate while making life easier for your partners and customers.

Modern needs require modern tech

In our high-speed, multitasking society, efficiency and convenience are paramount. The fewer steps people need to take to get where they want to go or do what they need to do, the better.

"Better" in this case goes for them and you. Fewer phone calls, emails, chats, etc. saves you money and resources. It also saves you time, which you can then reallocate to other critical business-building tasks. That makes self-service web portals important options for companies that interact with many stakeholders on a regular basis.

Custom portals for all communities

We build web portals that enable this functionality in user-friendly ways. Our solutions make it easy for your customers and partners to access the information they need when they need it. No hassle for them, no disruption to you.

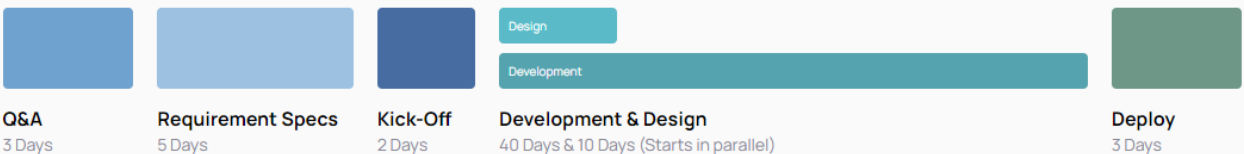

See Customer Success Story

Sample web app rework support:

- Connect people, products, and processes in one place for max efficiency
- Ensure easy log-in access on any device
- Customize dashboards that capture key information and guide portal navigation
- Create secure repositories for sensitive data
- Build in turnkey document-sharing capabilities
- Develop intuitive control settings for managers

SOLUTIONS

Mobile Apps

Don't fall into the trap of throwing together an app for the sake of having an app. These are critical business, sales, and marketing tools and need to be approached strategically if they're going to help you reach your goals.

Our developers excel at blending creativity and practicality for an unmatched app experience that gets results.

Apps have come a long way in a short time

Shopping. Transportation. Media. GPS. Lifestyle management. The list goes on and on.

Mobile apps and progressive web applications (PWAs) have become ubiquitous. Forward-thinking companies are finding all sorts of ways to use them in engaging their employees, partners, and customers. At the end of the day, the digital experiences you create impact your brand and business alike.

It's not about bells and whistles, it's about results

At AppEvolve, we're experts at unleashing the full power of mobile technologies for your business. After all, it's in our name. We focus on creating a world-class app based on defined needs, not trendy features.

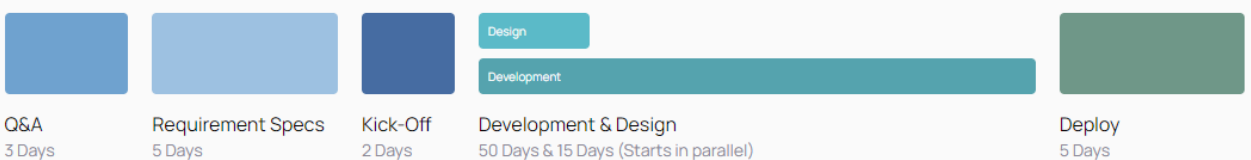

See Customer Success Story

Sample web app rework support:

- Extend your footprint beyond the desktop using innovative mobile touchpoints
- Enhance convenience, communication, and productivity for your audience
- Ensure all solutions are responsive and adaptable to any device
- Develop options for both iOS and Android
- Find new creative ways to interact with users anytime, anywhere on their terms

Traditional CMS has its limits

WordPress and similar CMS platforms are perfectly fine for some companies. For others, they're woefully inadequate to meet website needs. These frameworks tend to be bloated, contain unnecessary features, and use various plug-ins and updates that cause security issues.

Even modified versions won't support heavy website traffic or various integrations some groups must have to operate. Things like this require a sophisticated website platform for very specific business needs. And that, in turn, requires a specialized programmer that can develop a solution from the ground up.

A website that's just as unique as you are

We recognize how critical a custom website can be for marketing, e-commerce, account management, and everything in between. From functionality to user experience, we build a site that's quite literally one-of-a-kind.

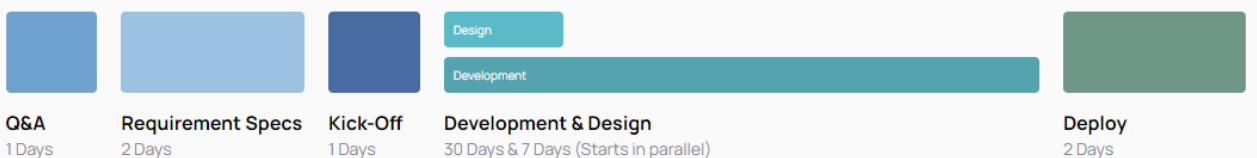

See Customer Success Story

Sample web app rework support:

- Guide website strategy based on your requirements and goals
- Focus on essential components, not irrelevant features that drag down the system
- Integrate flexibility for easier updates
- Maximize security and privacy safeguards
- Build a framework capable of complicated interactions at scale
- Produce a superior website that properly showcases your brand

A CRM tool as complex as it is powerful

Salesforce is the world's top CRM software, making it an attractive option for companies that rely on this type of system. Its benefits aren't automatic, though. To get the most out of Salesforce, it must integrate properly with your other tech platforms.

This is easier said than done. Aligning information across your organization's various data sources is complex to begin with, let alone during events like major migrations. Even the most outstanding in-house IT team may not have the experience or bandwidth for such an intricate process.

Your end-to-end Salesforce partner

We recognize how critical a custom website can be for marketing, e-commerce, account management, and everything in between. From functionality to user experience, we build a site that's quite literally one-of-a-kind.

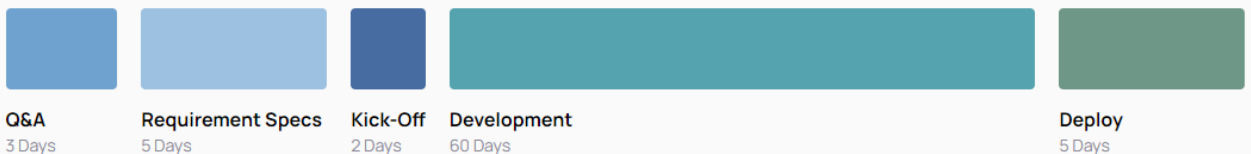

See Customer Success Story

Sample web app rework support:

- Integrate Salesforce with ERP and other systems to eliminate data silos
- Migrate multiple platforms into one Salesforce org during M&As
- Tailor workflows exclusively to your business processes
- Build real-time connections between Salesforce and end-user interfaces
- Develop custom lightning components
- Ensure data integrity and zero disruption during enterprise transitions

SOLUTIONS

Enterprise System

It goes without saying that business and technology go hand in hand these days. That means the platforms you use can either give you a leg up or hamstring you depending on how well they evolve with the rest of your company.

We ensure your enterprise IT stays lean and nimble for optimal performance as your organization and its systems grow.

Average Cost: $250K

With corporate growth often comes IT clutter

As businesses grow, several things can happen to their back-end systems. Applications can become outdated in a dynamic tech landscape. Software licenses can pile up when purchase decisions are made independently as needs arise. All of a sudden, you can find yourself in a tangled IT maze that comes with reduced efficiency and unnecessary expenses.

ERP, CRM, and other similar systems are far too important to fall into any of these scenarios. Rightsizing this ship is crucial for performance. The key to success here is careful customization, not a cookie cutter.

A flexible solution is a favorable solution

Simply put, you shouldn't have to adapt to your software, your software should adapt to you. Our ability to mold this to your most essential systems reduces cost and complexity without derailing the way you operate.

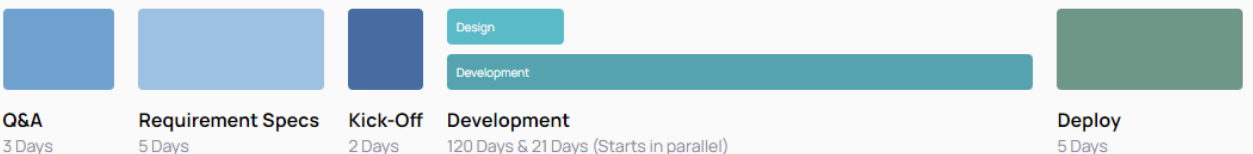

See Customer Success Story

Sample web app rework support:

- Identify ways to eliminate redundancy and optimize efficiency
- Consolidate systems to remove unnecessary licensing agreements
- Align data across all sources to ensure accuracy and consistency
- Replace tedious manual processes with automated platforms
- Integrate relevant features tailored to your functionality
- De-silo your infrastructure for better IT decision-making

Maintenance

Software lives, breathes, and evolves. Just like your people, it requires care and attention if you want it to perform well. Working with experts who know how to do this in their sleep helps you rest easy in yours.

And, as our clients have found, it's easier having a partner already on board than constantly having to onboard.

 Average Cost: $6K/mo

No “set it and forget it” with business software

Software of any kind is an investment in your organization. Particularly for big companies with diverse operational needs, it's critical that this investment be properly maintained. Otherwise, you run the risk of unnecessary expenses saddling your budget. Neglected platforms can also become counter-productive and affect your bottom line in other ways.

Having a steady partner that's familiar with both your system and your broader business is a reliable way to avoid these pitfalls. It's also far more efficient than searching for and briefing a new team any time you hit a snag.

A true extension of your team

Many of our clients ask us to stay on after we've built their applications. For those who engage us specifically for maintenance, we get up to speed on their code and processes quickly. These long-term relationships only improve our ability to anticipate their needs over time.

Sample web app rework support:

- Monitor systems to ensure optimal efficiency and performance
- Proactively apply version upgrades and security patches
- Troubleshoot bugs and unexpected system issues
- Respond to alerts in real-time with senior-level experts
- Supplement IT resources with 24/7 technical support
- Prioritize requests for new features in our project queue

Our custom software solutions help our clients elevate their productivity to boost their bottom lines

We're proud of what we've done for our customers. Whether you're a small business with a niche market or a global corporation with billions of dollars in revenue, we can help. Learn more about how our team has helped companies like yours to innovate, streamline, and grow.

They say it's not the destination, it's the journey

There's certainly some truth in that. While a premium product is no doubt where we intend to land, that product is simply the outcome of a premium process driven by people who care as much about your business as you do.

“Making a profit is not the goal.
Profits happen when you do everything else right.”

- Yvon Chouinard

Our Mission

From the earliest chisel to the latest microchip, technology has always met a specific need at a specific moment in time. Superior technology transcends both need and time.

Our mission is to continue a trend that's as old as civilization itself, to confront the immediate challenge while also seeing beyond it. In other words,

To push the bounds of innovation in overcoming our clients' biggest technological challenges for lasting impact on not only their businesses, but on the world around us.

We will achieve our mission through two primary pillars:

Service

Relationships of any kind are built on trust, which is why how we do business is just as important as the business we do. Our clients will always be able to rely on us for best-in-class service from beginning to end.

Simplicity

From our process to our people to our products, we believe lean and nimble is the best way to deliver the best results. Our clients can take confidence in a streamlined approach that optimizes their investment.

“Perfection is achieved, not when there is nothing more to add, but when there is nothing left to take away.”

- Antoine de Saint-Exupéry

OUR PROCESS

Proven process, flawless execution

Discovery Call

Communication is the number #1 reason why projects succeed. At AppEvolve, we start with a strategy session and client education.

Our team is committed to understanding your unique needs. Discovery calls help us dive deep into your challenges and propose meaningful, practical solutions. We work together to build a clear roadmap and strategy that sets expectations and transparency. Ongoing communication, status reports, and prompt feedback are integral to our company culture and your success.

Project Documentation

Communication is the number #1 reason why projects succeed. At AppEvolve, we start with a strategy session and client education.

At the heart of every well-run software project is a clear statement of purpose, scope, and definition of success. Project documentation goes much deeper than that, though. A disciplined documentation process ensures that your solution works the way you intended it to, and that you have an accurate blueprint for your software when we finish the project.

Project Planning

We design and deliver a tested software's most valuable features.

Using agile development methods, you have a working prototype in one or more essential features. We gain valuable user feedback to deliver a product that meets your needs from the first go.

During 20 years of developing digital projects, we've learned how to eliminate costly mistakes before they occur on our way to delivering the quality results you're after.

The AppEvolve Network resets the standard for scalable software development

From the Pacific NorthWest to the Philippines, every single developer in our worldwide network has been hand-selected for their skills, experience, and innovative approach to problem solving. When your project is ready to scale or deadlines are tight - the AppEvolve Network is your answer.

Join the Network

For Clients

A global team with a local touch.

AppEvolve's standout group of solutions providers begins right here in Boise, Idaho. Our US-based software team is able to work side by side with local companies and respond quickly to needs, updates, and questions from our other clients across the country.

Of course, not all the best developers happen to live in our backyard. Building you a top-of-the-line product requires looking outwards to find the brightest minds in the business. But, when we do, we make sure you receive the same experience you would if they were right next door.

You can count on every member of the AppEvolve Network to:

-  Apply senior-level expertise to each phase of your project
-  Bring a friendly, professional, and service-oriented attitude
-  Communicate just as well as they code
-  Meet your deadlines promptly
-  Maintain strict confidentiality and security protocols
-  Finalize your solution with our in-house tech leadership

Fully-vetted experts for custom-coding needs

We welcome the professional and cultural diversity that comes from seeking out the very best software engineers in the world. That's not cliché, either.

In fact, members of the AppEvolve Network have claimed that our screening process is one of the most rigorous challenges they've faced in their careers. We've created a proprietary coding test on par with that of elite cybersecurity services. Our goal is to guarantee the developers driving your project meet the highest of standards not just academically, but in practice.

For Developers

Ready to be part of something big?

It's not farfetched to say that digital technology powers virtually every aspect of today's world in some way, shape, or form. Software is the "man behind the curtain," influencing businesses and consumers without them really even being aware of it.

This makes software development ubiquitous in any industry at any scale across the globe. When facing this reality, how can developers gain an edge in such a competitive space?

For us, it all starts and ends with one thing: you.

A strategic company structure paves the way for growth—both ours and yours

Our people are our difference. We can't accomplish our mission without a reliable, multi-talented team that's able to push the bounds of innovation to solve our clients' biggest challenges and improve the world around us along the way.

Join the Network

If you're friendly and professional. You communicate as well as you code. You're as passionate about making a difference as you are about the technology you build to do so.

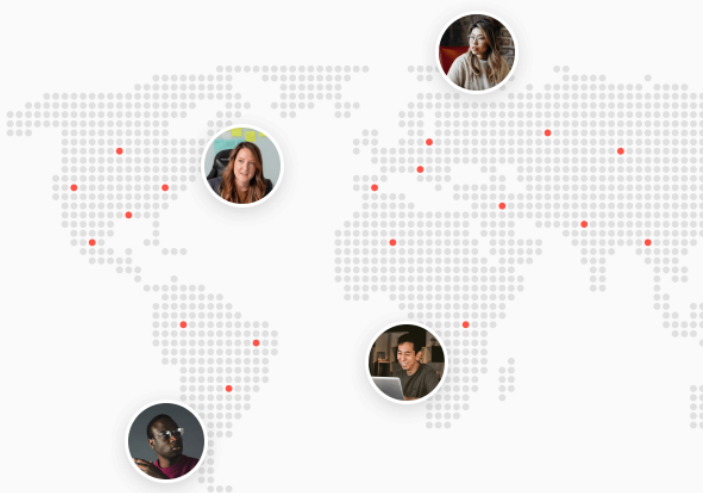

Then you are AppEvolve.

We evolved from a two-person operation to a global team

Expansion has allowed us to serve a greater number of clients in a more diverse set of industries through an ever-widening array of tech frameworks.

Our group is made up of both in-house employees and trusted contractors in our extended AppEvolve Network. Engineers from both sides comprise our Core Developer Team, which helps lead projects while also actively taking part in the software build-out itself.

This structure does two things. First, it optimizes our capabilities and client service. And second, it presents opportunities for advancement based on individual performance for those who wish to grow with us.

AppEvolve Network onboarding

As a contractor in our AppEvolve Network, you've already demonstrated your technical acumen through one of the industry's most challenging hands-on assessments. The next step is a sandbox period in which we gauge performance on internal projects. This also makes sure our partnership is a good "fit" for both of us in a low-risk environment.

Development capabilities across 80 hours of paid internal project work

Implementation of thoughtful design techniques

Understanding of coding best practices

Work ethic and ability to operate both individually and as a team player

Developers who perform capably and fit well with our culture will become full AppEvolve Network contractors.

As a full AppEvolve Network contractor you will receive:

- Client-based work in addition to internal projects
- Ability to apply your own working style, such requesting preferred days for regular calls
- Access to our team Slack channel (with regular shout-outs for awesome work!)
- On-time, bi-weekly payments
- An invite to our annual team meetup in a different location around the world each year
